COVID-19 Update

Based on guidelines published by the Department of Homeland Security, ASPEQ is a part of the Essential Critical Infrastructure deemed necessary to continue operations. Our facilities are complying with the CDC guidelines and we have made modifications to shift assignments and equipment layout in order to maintain the 6ft social distancing recommendation. Both ASPEQ production facilities are fully operational at this time and all employees who can do so are working from home.

It is our goal to educate our employees on CDC guidelines and best practices in the workplace. Shipments vital to our customers are challenged by regional lock-downs, but we will work through these situations as best we can.

Staffing and material stock levels are central to our plans to support customer recovery surge in the future.

In our 90+ years of operation, we have been through wars, the polio quarantine, natural disasters and 9-11. Like that of our customers, the integrity and character of our employees will be pushed to meet this massive challenge. We at ASPEQ put our hopes in a speedy resolution to this pandemic and a resumption of life without it. All the best to our customers, suppliers and their families.
